

IRISH WARNED TO END THEIR QUIBBLING NOW

Mistake to Believe That British Will Change
Stand.

PRESS ISSUES CALL

Admonitions of Premier Lloyd George Must Be Heeded.

Dublin, August 27.—Both the Sinn Fein cabinet and Dail Eireann (Sinn Fein parliament) met in secret session today to discuss Premier Lloyd George's communication replying to the Sinn Fein note rejecting the English peace offer.

Permission had been given to the members of Dail Eireann to return to their homes last Friday, but it was hastily cancelled when word was received from London that the premier was making reply to the Sinn Fein note.

The cabinet discussed the advisability of Eamon DeValera and his colleagues returning to London. It was regarded as practically certain that they will go. Premier Lloyd George in his rejoinder offered to meet any Sinn Fein delegates who went to London to confer on Irish peace.

London, August 27.—Solemn warning to the Irish people to heed
the admonitions of Premier Lloyd George's rejoinder to the Sinn Fein
note rejecting the English peace proposals was printed by British and some Irish newspapers today.

"Irishmen must now decide that it is uselessness to pretend that the British government terms will be changed regardless of the form of their presentation," said the London Times.

"Irishmen are urged not to be misled by the vain belief that the British government will make any further concessions."

The Northern Whig of Belfast, a bitter anti-Sinn Fein organ, in its comment upon the premier's letter,
said:

"If the British government abides by the terminology it is an ultimatum to the rebels, unless they haul down the Irish republican flag and hoist the union jack, steps will be taken to compel them to do so."

The Irish Times of Dublin suggests a referendum as the best way out of the present situation.

"With the will for peace existing on both sides it ought to be possible at this stage by conference to arrive at a basis upon which a settlement can be effected that will be honorable and satisfactory on both sides," said the Irish Independent.

"Conference is more fruitful
than correspondence."

Not a single paper suggested that the English proposal be withdrawn,
but the Tory newspaper Morning Post proposed that John Dillon and other members of the old Irish nationalist party be consulted as well as the Sinn Feiners.

The Daily Chronicle suggested a direct appeal to the Irish people.

"If Dail Eireann rejects membership in the British empire no further progress can be made," said
the Daily Chronicle.

Both in Britain and Ireland the possibility of a renewal of warfare is deplored.

DIRIGIBLE INQUIRY WILL BE SECRET

Howden, England, Aug. 27.—Formal inquiry into the loss of the dirigible
ZR-2 was opened today, following the preliminary investigation at Hull where the wreckage still lies in the Humber river. The session will be secret, an agreement having been reached upon this point by the British and American naval and air authorities.

There are seven officers on the board of inquiry with Major General Sir John Salmond presiding. It was announced that not only would newspapers be excluded but no statements would be issued.

The British authorities said that every facility had been extended to the American government to make the most complete investigation on its own behalf.

HARD TO TELL

New York, Aug. 27.—Asked for a statement of his views on the coming disarmament conference at Washington, Col. Dupont of the powder company of that name and one of the richest men of the country wrote to the International News Service from Colorado Springs, Colo., as follows:

"The question you raise as to the possible achievement of a body
that is going to meet on disarmament is rather like asking how long is a piece of string and I think the only answer that can be made to it that would be intelligent at this time would be that I hope for progress. I am for disarmament if it does not affect preparedness, which means, of course, that others should disarm
in approximately the same percent as we do and at the same time."

The Way It Happened

This composite picture made by the artist from a photo of the ZR-2 and from telegraphic description illustrates how the ZR-2 exploded in air, killing most of the crew.

C. W. French and Others Are Arraigned Saturday

Nine Men Will Be Charged With Using Mails To Defraud and With Conspiracy In Chicago Court.

Chicago, August 27.—Charles W.
French and eight of his associates in an alleged $500,000 swindling conspiracy were to be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner James R. Glass. They face charges of using the mails to defraud and of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud.

Those to be arraigned today, besides French, are Rudolph E. Kohn, vice president of the American Rubber company; Charles W. Hawkins, Cleveland broker; A. L. Streizin the "boy boss" of Milwaukee; Alva W.
Hansman, former secretary to French; Elmer L. Gerber, James
Howard Leets and Charles H. Den-locke of Cleveland and Charles K.
Strobel, of Akron, Ohio.

Others involved with the band and who are under indictment will be arraigned as they are arrested.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney
John V. Cline today holds possession of $500,000 more in questionable notes turned over to him by Kohn, together with many letters exchanged between Kohn and French. Most of the letters were written to Kohn from Dayton, Ohio, in June while French is said to have been endeavoring to obtain $1,000,000 in unsecured notes from the Master Trust company. Cline considers the letters as among the most important evidence yet uncovered in substantiation of the charges of misuse of the mails.

Akron, O., Aug. 27.—Akron business men today connect promoter French with a colossal scheme which was attempted here twenty years ago.

Several recall that at that time a man came here, gave the name of French, and opened luxurious offices.
He sought to induce money men to invest in a scheme for building the Midland Central railroad, a trunk line
through the Ohio valley.

Charles K. Strobel, arrested Monday by federal agents, left Friday night for Chicago where he is to appear in federal court today. Before leaving Strobel said: "I shall file suit against Charles French for $100,000 damages."

Strobel claims that because of failure of French to negotiate the various loans as promised, he has been unable to collect his per centage and further that French's subsequent actions have caused him a huge loss.
Strobel said that all he ever received from French was $700 as commissions.

It is also claimed by Strobel that as a result of French's failure to make loans at the time promised several of the concerns with which he negotiated have gone into the hands of a receiver.
"They are holding me responsible,"
said Strobel. French promised them he would be able to obtain the funds sought in fifteen days, but none of them have heard from him in months.

BANDITS OBTAIN LOOT FROM BANK

Between $20,000 and $45,000 was obtained by bandits who robbed the Huntington Park branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, yesterday, it was announced by bank officials.

After knocking A. Adams, branch manager, and another employee unconscious with revolver butts, the bandits escaped in an automobile.

New York, August 27.—Detectives announced that securities valued at $29,600, stolen from Mc-Donald & Co., of San Francisco, by Russell Lafayette Griffen, a twenty-one-year-old messenger, had been recovered in a bank here and in the desk which he rented in an office in order to start speculating in stocks.

In a confession, as given out by police, he said he had realized nearly $3,000 on the rest of the stolen securities and spent it for travel and entertainment.

Given sixteen packages of mail by his employers to be registered, Griffen stole five, it was said, and went East. He stopped at Salt Lake City and sold a bond or two there.

SEEK PENALTY FOR DAMAGE TO ROADS

Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—Council, Sept. 6, will be requested by the Columbus Automobile Club to increase the penalty inflicted upon persons damaging the city's streets with trucks, tractors and other heavy vehicles.
A fine of $25 and costs is the maximum penalty under the present ordinance against this abuse.

"We will ask council to amend the present ordinance making the fine
from $25 to $300 and imprisonment from five to 90 days for the first offense, and for the second offense $25 to $500 and six months' imprisonment or both," Secretary Mueller of the Auto Club asserted yesterday.

Directors of the Automobile Club will also request that the legislature enact similar legislation to apply to Franklin county.

EXECUTION WILL OCCUR MONDAY

Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—Barring possible action by Gov. Davis, Frank Motto is scheduled to be electrocuted here early next Monday morning.

The U. S. supreme court, according to word received here, has refused to stay the execution pending a proposed appeal from the action of the Ohio courts which found Motto guilty of murdering Wilfred C. Sly and George K. Pranner, Cleveland manufacturers.
New Years morning during a payroll robbery.

ASSASSINATION OF ERZBERGER MARKS CRISIS

Royalists in Germany Increase Activities, It Is Admitted.

OLD SPIRIT REVIVED

Former Vice Chancellor
Shot to Death in Woods
By Youths.

Berlin, August 27.—The assassination of Dr. Mathias Erzberger, former vice chancellor and minister of finance near Offenbourg, Baden, marks a crisis in the increasing royalist and military activities in Germany, it was admitted today. It is believed the militarist and mon-archist revival was responsible for the murder of Erzberger, who was a bulwark of republicanism and orderly observance of the treaty of Versailles.

Both royalist and democratic newspapers condemned the murder
in their comment today.

Chancellor Wirth has telegraphed his condolences and those of the cabinet to Frau Erzberger who accompanied her husband when he went to Baden to visit his mother.

Royalists and militarists activities have been more marked this week than at any other time since the armistice.

Army officers are appearing in the streets in full uniform and demorations and the old military spirit is showing itself in other ways.

The government will take precautions to prevent outbreaks when the funeral is held.

Additional details from Offenbourg show that Erzberger was walking along a highway in the Black Forest, when attacked by two youths. After the shooting began,
Erzberger jumped behind a hedge.
The assailants walked off some distance where they watched to make sure that their victim was dead.

The body was discovered immediately afterwards riddled with bullets but owing to technical legal reasons was allowed to lie by the roadside nearly the entire day.

When the police arrived they fenced off the entire neighborhood
to facilitate the investigation by the police.

MOONSHINERS AND DRY SLEUTHS BATTLE

Paintsville, Ky., Aug. 27.—John H.
Reynolds, 42, veteran prohibition agent, and James Melvin, town marshall of Paintsville were shot and killed instantly and Deputy Sheriff Manuel Fitzpatrick of Johnson County and Hugh McKenzie were seriously wounded in a battle between a party of prohibition agents and moonshiners near here yesterday.

Five men, charged with being members of the band of moonshiners which fired on the raiding party were arrested on murder charges. They are Jesse McKenzie, Ray McKenzie, Otto Young, Tollie King and Bennie Blevin.

Hugh McKenzie, also said to have been one of the attackers, is in a local hospital with two bullet wounds in the abdomen. Physicians say his condition is serious.

Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick, while in a serious condition, probably will recover. He was shot through the body and arm.

Last night a posse was searching the mountains surrounding Paintsville for other members of the band.

HOLY SMOKE

St. Louis, Mo.—Pipes, like cats, always come home. So says Bab Wise local telegrapher, who has had returned to him from Chicago a friendly shell of a "smoke-wagon" which was left on the desk of a friend he was visiting. Two years ago the same pipe was returned from New York by a friend. A year before that the clerk of a Savannah, Ga., hotel sent the pipe back to Wise after he had left it in his room.

MARY ANSWERS DELICATE QUERY

New York, Aug. 27.—"I'm never going to grow old," said
Mary Pickford on her arrival here with Douglas Fairbanks, en route to Europe for their second honeymoon.

"Somebody asked me the other day what I did to keep my legs looking like a little girl's. I guess the good Lord must have known I was going to act little girls' parts when he gave them to me, because I don't do anything."

Happiness is the secret of her youth, she said.

"Little Mary" seemed chiefly concerned about the antics of her husband. "He's getting worse than ever. Yesterday he tried to climb out of a Pullman window.
I had to hold him by the coat tails.
And isn't his mustache cute?"
she said.

They are very happy, she said.
She scoffed at the idea of their going on the speaking stage.

FIGHTING IN LOGAN COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA. IN PROGRESS SATURDAY

German Made Zeppelins Better Than British Craft

Nephew of Late Count Zeppelin Declares Explosion May Have Been Caused By Carburetor—Points Out Losses During World War.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—Baron Gemmingen, nephew of the late Count Zeppelin and foremost German expert on aeronautics, in commenting today
upon the ZR-2 disaster said he believed that the German zeppelin were safer and superior in construction to the English lighter than air craft. Since the construction of Zeppelins was begun only one has been burned in mid-air as the result of accident.

After the death of Count Zeppelin
the baron was made chief of the zeppelin factories and aeronautical students at Friedrichshafen where he carried on numerous experiments. A telegram was sent to him by the International News Service asking expert opinion on the destruction of the ZR-2 and the following reply was received today:

"I have had only a short telegram
telling of the destruction of the English airship. Correct judgement is impossible until I have studied the statements of the survivors."

"It may be that the carburetor on one of the motors ignited escaping
gas. In case of an explosion destruction occurs so suddenly that there is no time for the men to get the para-chutes and spring overboard."

"According to Americans who have been in Friedrichshafen. England lost seven airships by ignition during the war. This indicates faulty construction as regards motors, which has not been in the case with the zeppelins.
Germany has lost only one airship
through fire resulting from faulty construction. This error was immediately corrected and since then the only zeppelins that were burned were set ablaze by enemy fire."

"No zeppelins were burned from any other cause despite numerous flights over long distances. The complications and all the metal parts make sparkings in the ship impossible. Therefore, when a ship is struck by lightning which has happened many times
while I was piloting aircraft, there was the greatest security against fire."

"Our experience with dirigibles and with motors made us careful in planning complete ventilation throughout the entire ship. In fact I might say that the general precautions
taken for the safety of zeppelins makes them almost as safe as railroad trains and steamboats and safer than automobiles."

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR CAMPAIGN TO RAISE 200 THOUSAND

The stage is set for the six-day whirlwind campaign to be conducted to raise $200,000 within the coming week in the interests of Cedarville College.

At a booster dinner and pep meeting given in the Cedarville High school gymnasium, Friday evening,
the workers in the big campaign that will be conducted throughout the county, were filled with enthusiasm for their project and given final instructions relative to their work.

The campaign will start Monday morning, with individual teams working in each township, under township chairmen. It will continue until September 3, by which time it is hoped to have raised the $100,000 for the erection of three new buildings on the campus, which is the purpose of the drive. All of the money donated goes to this purpose, the campaign
expenses being paid from another source.

The dinner, Friday evening, was given by the Cedarville Community Club to the captains and workers in the campaign, and between 325 and 350 people were present. Following the dinner, G. H. Hartman of Cedarville, acted as toastmaster, introducing Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum College; Dr.

W. B. McChesney, president of Cedarville College; Dr. J. Alvin Orr, of Pittsburgh, and a number of other improvising speakers, including A. P.
Adelman, who is conducting the campaign, and who used the opportunity to give final instructions to the workers.

The entire county is covered by the more than 100 workers who will aid in the campaign. The workers' automobiles will be decorated with windshield stickers and banners proclaiming that they are soliciting for the College, and they will impose flying squadrons that are expected to reach every name on a list of 3,000
Greene County people who will be called on during the week.

The meeting was the best of the pre-campaign affairs held, according to officials of the drive, and it was anticipated Saturday that the difficultly would accompany the efforts of workers when they started out Monday.

THIRTEEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED IN MASSACRE IN MALABAR DISTRICT, INDIA

London, Aug. 27.—Thirteen wo-

ered in a massacre by Moplah natives near Tirur in the southern part of the Malabar district of India, said a Central News dispatch from Calcutta today.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF XENIA CALLED BY DEATH SATURDAY

DR. J. G. CARSON
Death summoned Dr. James Gilles-py Carson pastor emeritus of the Second U. P. Church of this city and prominent citizen of Xenia, died at 5:20 Saturday morning at Espey Hospital, following an illness which developed last Monday night. Dr. Carson was 88 years old at the time of his death, and had been prominent here for over half a century.

AUTO CLUB WILL GIVE AWAY CAR DURING FESTIVAL

Announcement that the Greene County Automobile Club would give a Ford Sedan away during the Fall Festival next week as part of an advertising and promotion scheme for the organization was made by Dr. A.
C. Messenger, president of the club at the meeting, Friday night.

The club will have headquarters
during the festival in the automobile show through the kindness of the Festival Production Company and this will also be headquarters for the committee which will have charge of the machine to be given away. Dr.
Messenger appointed this committee
Saturday morning. Its personnel follows:

James D. Adair, C. S. Johnson,
Frank Jackson, W. J. Kennedy, L.
M. Owens, Thearl White, Flore Stewart, Harry Sutton, N. N. Hunter, Ballard, Harvey Coates, Fred McClain
Roy Ary, H. L. Binder, Clarence
Barnes, Arch Consey, Jacob Kany,
Emil Eichman, L. B. Edgington,
Frank Fisher, Ed S. Foust, H. C.
Fisher, Jesse Gilbert, Dr. R. L.
Haines, J. T. Hibbert, E. H. Hunt,
H. L. Herrick, J. E. Kohl, Charles
Kelbie, A. Moser, L. M. Martin, Wm.
H. McGorvey, Ralph Neel, L. A.
Parrett, Dr. C. E. Ream, A. Z. Smith,
A. L. Sachs, M. H. Schmidt, John A.
Thuma, J. E. Waddle, Andrew Winter, C. L. Weaver and Robert Collins.
The Automobile Club will provide parking space for automobiles during the Festival. It was announced Saturday by Frank Davidson, secretary of the organization. In case clear weather prevails the autos will probably be parked in the Dadds addition, Detroit and Church streets,
where police protection will be provided by the club. In case of bad weather some other location will be sought with assurance from the club
that the machines will be well taken care of.

MINERS SEIZE SPECIAL TRAIN TO PUSH AHEAD

"Army of Invasion" Backs
Down On Promise to Disband

INVADERS REPULSED

Sheriff Renews Appeal For Help From Mingo
County.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 27.— Fighting in Logan county was in progress apparently early today, according to reports received here.

Sheriff Don Chafin, of Logan county, wired military headquarters here that the detachment of 1200 men of the "army of invasion" that entered Logan county near Sharples yesterday and agreed to disband, had seized the special train furnished to transport them back to Marmet. They ran the train to the terminus of the Coal river branch near Blair, which is in Logan county, then marched on through the village in the direction of Logan, soon coming in contact with Logan county officials.

In his message, Sheriff Chafin stated that there had been fighting throughout the night and that so far the invaders had been repulsed. He reported he is still in command of the situation. No estimate of the casualties could be had from him.

Sheriff Chafin renewed his appeal for help from Mingo county and a force of 100 regular state policemen,
together with volunteers state militi-men and deputies left Williamson in trucks before daylight. It is said McDowell county is sending 300 regular sheriff to Logan by automobile.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 27.—Reports that a big battle is in progress in Logan county, W. Va., between 1,000 miners and 400 or 500 deputy sheriffs were partly confirmed this morning when the sheriff's office at Welch,
W. Va., informed the International
News Service from Williamson, W.
telephone that urgent appeals for assistance had been received from the sheriff of Logan county. An appeal was also made for immediate assistance to the sheriff of McDowell
county.

A message to the International
News Service from Williamson, W.
Va., also states that Sheriff Pinson has been implored to rush help to the sheriff of Logan county.

The sheriff at Welch was not inclined to go into details this morning and after reporting the calls for aid said that was all he had to say.

Reports from Williamson are somewhat conflicting. One message says the bulk of the miners army, yesterday, agreed to go back to Marmet but that about 1200 miners apparently disobeyed orders of President C. J.
Keeney and continued their march.

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 27.—The sheriff's office reported everything quiet along the Logan Boone county border at 10 o'clock today.

Reports reaching Logan state that fighting has been in progress since midnight and that the army of Chafin has been recalled to service. These reports were denied by the sheriff's office.

Two special deputies Randolph Dial and Allan Moons, are reported to have been killed. This report was also denied by the sheriff's office.

The miners, according to reports received here, are coming down George's creek.

Tranquility in all sectors is the report issued by the sheriff's office today.

EXPECT INCREASES IN TAX RATES

Piqua, August 27.—County Auditor T. B. Radabaugh, and his staff are busy figuring on the tax rates of the various taxing divisions of the county for the coming year.
Their figures to date show that many increases in rate may be expected, due to various additional levies made as the result of the letting down of limitation by the last legislature and by succeeding votes of the people.

One favorable circumstance is that indications are that the Miami county duplicate will be reduced but little if any from that of the past year despite large reductions in the value of personal property. It is said that new buildings will practically offset the decreases. In many counties a substantial reduction of the duplicate is anticipated.

VIOLENCE STARTS

Belfast, Aug. 27.—Another outbreak of violence occurred here early today. The residence of Peter Moon was bombed but none of the occupants was injured. The Belfast area has been the only scene of violence in Ireland since the armistice went into effect.

DR. J. G. CARSON CALLED BY DEATH EARLY SATURDAY

The Reverend James Gillespy Carson, D. D., LL. D., pastor emeritus of the Second United Presbyterian Church, of this city, and professor emeritus of the Xenia Theological Seminary, passed away at 5:30 o'clock, Saturday morning, at the Espey Hospital, after an illness of a few days.

With the completion of his plans to leave for Burgettstown, Pennsylvania, to spend the remainder of his life with his niece, Miss Ella Carson, Dr. Carson was taken suddenly ill, Monday night, suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage and intestinal indigestion. He was removed to the Espey hospital, where his condition became gradually weaker, and he slept away early Saturday morning. It is said that Dr. Carson's last wish was that he might die in the city where he had spent the larger part of his life, and his sudden illness was a means of granting his request.

During his pastorate in this city, Dr. Carson was well known throughout the state where his labors were effective in promoting the intellectual development of the community. Since his arrival in this city in December 1869, his life was devoted to the progress of his church and the moral advancement of the county formed a part of Dr. Carson's efforts.

Dr. Carson was born near Marysville, Blount County, Tennessee, on February 11, 1833, the son of the Rev. David and Jane Walker (Gillespy) Carson. Dr. Carson's father, in 1833 was elected professor of the Associate Presbyterian Seminary at Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania. The school was afterward removed to Xenia, and in July 1834, Rev. David Carson removed to the north to assume his duties, in the seminary. On September 25 of that year he passed away.

When only a few months old, Rev. Carson was taken to Pennsylvania. He was reared in Cannonsburg, acquiring his education there and was graduated from Jefferson College with the Degree of Arts, in the class of 1849.

He was licensed to preach by Chartiers Presbytery in 1855, three years before the consolidation of the Associate and Associated Reformed Church, which were united in 1858, to form the United Presbyterian denomination. Dr. Carson was reared in the Associate Church, his father, the Rev. David Carson being of that denomination. In November, 1856, he was ordained and installed as pastor of the congregation of South Buffalo, now Claysville, Washington County, Pennsylvania, where he remained until May, 1867. During the Civil War, Dr. Carson was connected with the Christian Commission, stationed at Romney, Virginia, and in the spring of 1864, was stationed at Knoxville, Tennessee. His most important work however, during that War, was that which he performed as the president of the Union League, of Buffalo township, and also in the active support which he gave to the administration in its work of putting down rebellion. He met with much opposition where he was located, with his eloquent words and logical utterances, and had marked influence in molding sentiment.

In 1867, Dr. Carson removed to Cannonsburg, where he remained until 1869 as pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, and in December of that year, he came to Xenia, accepting the pastorate of the Second United Presbyterian Church.

In the fall of 1873 he was also elected professor of homiletics and pastoral theology of the Xenia Theological Seminary occupying that chair for fifteen years, then finding his duties too arduous he resigned the professorship and confined his attention to the pastoral work. He served as a member of the board of managers of the Xenia Theological Seminary and was its secretary for four years.

On the first of October, 1886, the Rev. Dr. Carson married Miss Mary H. Clarkson, a daughter of the Rev. Thomas B. Clarkson, of Merceburg, Pennsylvania, a granddaughter of the Rev. James Clarkson, of Guinston, Pennsylvania. Her death occurred in Xenia, March 21, 1894.

Doctor Carson was a strong supporter of the Republican party, and had been a factor in political circles. He had been a delegate to different synods of his church and his wise counsel and keen insight to possibilities, have made his opinions of value in such gatherings.

He represented this district in the Ohio Senate two years, 1904-06.

Funeral services for the Rev. Dr. Carson will be held at the Second United Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock, daylight saving time, Monday. Friends, wishing to view the remains may call at the Nagley Undertaking parlors, between the hours of nine and eleven o'clock, Monday morning.

MRS. R. A. COMPTON DIES ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Rachel Ann Compton, 77, well known Spring Valley resident, and widow of Wilson Compton, died at her home there at 7:30 o'clock, Friday evening. Death followed seven weeks illness of heart trouble.

Mrs. Compton was born near Harveysburg, July 8, 1844, and with her husband moved to Spring Valley from the country thirty years ago. Mr. Compton died Thanksgiving Day, 1912, and surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Rose Smith of Spring Valley and Mrs. Birdie Alexander of near Spring Valley, four grandchildren, and one great grandchild. She also leaves two half-brothers, Leonard Gaddis, of Harvard, Nebraska, and Charles Gaddis, of Hastings, Nebraska, and a half-sister, Mrs. Sallie Murphy of Hastings, Nebraska.

Mrs. Compton was a life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Spring Valley and active in church work and in the Sunday School. Funeral services will be held, Monday afternoon, at two o'clock standard time, at the late home and burial will be made in Spring Valley.

HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need
Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not work. A neighbor recommended your medicine and I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work, and recommend your medicine to my friends."—ANNA RIMKUS, R. R. No. 8, Springfield, Ill.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, in regard to your health.

THESE representative citizens of Greene County who are READY to ask you for your contribution, are performing a service which is essentially a service to country and humanity. It is as truly a service to country and humanity as was work for the Liberty Loan Drives during the war.

THESE citizens backed the Liberty drives because they believed these drives necessary to the welfare of the Nation. Now, they are backing the Cedarville College drive because they believe it is necessary to the welfare of Greene County. All of them are READY to give you an opportunity to share in the benefits that will accrue when Cedarville College shall have expanded into an association Institution.

THEREFORE, WHATEVER

YOU can give to help save Cedarville College, you now have the privilege and the right to give, and you in turn will have a right to your full share of the blessings which a greater and better Cedarville College can bestow upon you.

REMEMBER, you have FIVE LONG YEARS in which to pay your pledges. Make all checks payable to the Treasurer of Cedarville College.

Could A Doctor Do More For You?

The family physician feels your pulse and examines you in many ways and then tells you what is good for what ails you. But, he also sees to it that what is given as a remedy is of the proper proportion and of that certain power that makes for good. Makers of RED WING Ice Cream do just about the same thing. They know that at this season of the year, people need good, wholesome food, containing that which cools, refreshes and satisfies in other ways. Too, they see that it is made of pure cream, cane sugar and flavors so that there is no reaction but that which revives the jaded nerve and tired body. When you are "all fagged out" and easily disturbed, try some of the superior ice cream bearing the RED WING label. It will do you a world of good. You may buy your favorite flavor in almost any form—brick or bulk—within a short distance, for there is a RED WING dealer near you.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Jennie Williamson, 21, wife of Ollie Williamson, died at the home of her father-in-law, Henry Williamson, Middleton's Corner, at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Death was due to tuberculosis from which she had been a sufferer for two years, being confined to her bed for the last 14 weeks.

Mrs. Williamson was before marriage Miss Jennie Melvin, and her marriage to Mr. Williamson took place June 17, 1916. Her husband survives her, with two children, Mary Emily, aged three years, and Oscar Leroy, aged three months. She also leaves her father, John B. Melvin, of Sedalia, and seven brothers, Alva Melvin, of Marshall, Ohio; William and James of Port William; Wesley of Cuba, Ohio, and Charles, Walter and Clark of Xenia. A sister and two other brothers preceded her in death.

Mrs. Williamson was a member of the Mt. Zion Church at Gunnersville. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock standard time, at the New Hope Friends' Church.

EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF FALL FESTIVAL STARTING TUESDAY

"The Fall Festival is a commercial, industrial and agricultural pageant of the community. Unless the merchants, manufacturers, and farmers enter into its spirit, they will lose the advantages for which it is held."

So says Frank Aide, of the Festival Production Company of Chillicothe, which will stage the festival here next week, and who arrived in this city, Friday evening from Springfield where the festival is being staged this week.

"Merchants should not hesitate to subscribe for at least ten feet of the space in front of their places of business," continued Mr. Aide. "Unless they do take space, and then present in the booth a good advertising display, they will not benefit from the festival whatever. Unless at least 75 per cent of the people do not profit by the festival by arranging good advertising the festival will be a failure."

"By this I do not mean that the festival will actually fail. People will come in in crowds during the week, will enjoy the attractions and have a good time, but the merchants themselves will not derive any benefit from having the crowds here unless they take advantage of the excellent opportunity afforded to display their goods in an attractive manner."

Mr. Aide will complete final plans for the festival before the arrival of the equipment Sunday night and it is one of his wishes that merchants get the most out of the festival while it is here.

By bringing the crowds to the doors of the merchants, he explained, opportunity is afforded the buying public of the advantages of dealing in their particular store. Thus, he believes, they should buy booth space, and having bought it, should not let it sit idle, but should decorate it properly.

The festival will begin with the merchants and industrial parade which will be held at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. One of the longest parades of the festival week is expected at the time, when merchants will have decorated wagons, trucks and automobiles and floats in the parade. The official opening of the festival will take place Tuesday evening at the stand in front of the Court House when Frank W. Dodds, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and John W. Prugh of its board of directors, will make short speeches of welcome to the visitors.

The booths and attractions will open then for the first time, and every day thereafter will be open for the benefit of visitors practically all day. Band concerts will be daily features in the automobile show, free attractions such as Jumbo, Jr., the tight wire walking elephant, a Punch and Judy act, a magician, an educated dog show and other free attractions will help entertain the crowds. There will be a parade every day, with big visiting delegations of autoists expected Thursday. Sister Cities Day, as commercial organizations in all nearby cities have been invited to send delegations at that time and there will be dancing nightly. The festival will close Saturday night with a masked carnival.

RED CROSS GIVEN GENEROUS BOOTH SPACE AT FESTIVAL

Fifty feet of booth space along Detroit street near the main entrance to the Court House, has been donated to the Greene County Red Cross, by Mr. Secrest, manager of the Fall Festival which is to be held in Xenia next week.

The Red Cross will equip this booth with first aid supplies, and a rest room for women. Red Cross representatives and a nurse will be on hand constantly to administer help, and to make visitors comfortable.

Officials of the Red Cross Saturday expressed their gratitude to the festival management for giving the organization this space.

Mrs. Avid W. Cherry, chairman of the "Baby Clinic" committee, announced, Saturday, that all children up to and including six years of age, will be admitted for examination in the clinic. She also made a request that each mother entering her child bring a small blanket in which the little one may be wrapped after it is undressed ready to be examined, and immediately upon completion of the examination. The Red Cross is not prepared to meet this need.

The baby clinic is expected to be one of the most interesting and profitable features of the festival. The fact that all mothers will be given the records of their babies as determined in the clinic should make it one of extreme importance to parents.

Each baby attending the clinic, as well as each child entered in the baby parades, will receive a gift.

In addition a grand prize will be given to the baby riding in the most attractively decorated perambulator in each of the parades for the white and colored babies, Thursday afternoon.

TINGLEY VISITS XENIA C. E. SOCIETIES OF COUNTY GATHER IN XENIA FOR MEETING

"I am convinced that there is no state in the union to compare with Ohio as a place to live in."

So says L. C. Tingley, formerly secretary of the Xenia Chamber of Commerce, now secretary at Chicago Heights, who was a visitor for a few hours in this city Friday afternoon.

Mr. Tingley attended the American City Bureau school of community leadership for commercial organization secretaries at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, and then motored to Dayton before the close of the school, to see Mrs. Tingley who has been ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schachne on Superior Avenue, for three weeks. Mrs. Tingley is now improving.

Seven Christian Endeavor societies from over the county were represented at the annual county convention held at the Friends Church in Xenia, Wednesday. The afternoon was spent in hearing reports and discussing plans for the coming year. At five-thirty a merry party gathered in the basement of the church and a picnic supper was served.

In the evening W. P. Harriman of the Cedarville Reformed Presbyterian Church gave an inspiring address on "Our Highest Service." To add to the entertainment of the evening's program was a whistling solo rendered by Mr. Homer Mendenhall of Monrovia, Cal., who is visiting in the vicinity of Springfield, Va. The closing consecration service was conducted by Rev. Robert Colman of the Clifton Presbyterian Church. He used part of the 12th Chapter of John for his scripture, and very earnestly and forcibly drove home the message.

Mr. Elmer Barr, principal of the Spring Valley schools for the past year, has for a year been president of the county Christian Endeavor organization, he is leaving the state this fall to take charge of the academic work at Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee. He is succeeded in the Christian Endeavor work by Rev. Robert Colman of Clifton. The other officers for the coming year are as follows:

Vice President—Grover Crawford, Xenia, Ohio.
Sec'y. and Treas.—Mabel Kendig, Yellow Springs, Ohio.
Asst. Sec'y.—Susanna Enmick, Osborn, Ohio.
Missionary Supt.—Mary Cooper, Cedarville, Ohio.

DISTRIBUTION OF AUTO TAG MONEY IS EXPLAINED HERE

Interesting figures regarding the distribution of Greene County's share of money spent for automobile tags to the various taxing districts, were presented by Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith, who has charge of auto registration, at the banquet and meeting of the Greene County Automobile Club held at the Chamber of Commerce, Friday evening.

A per cent of the amount of money paid by each automobile owner for his state license each year, comes back to the taxing district in which he lives. The balance goes to the state. In cases where the auto owners neglect to state what part of the county they live in, this money is divided generally in the county instead of the individual taxing district getting the benefit.

The following figures show the figures for 1920 and up until Aug. 1, 1921, giving an interesting comparison of the money derived from each taxing district through the licensing of machines.

AMERICA DISARMING.

Secretary Weeks announces that he has cut the cost of the United States Army by half. Its personnel has been reduced to 150,000 officers and men. There are Congressmen who would whittle it to exactly half that size.

We have reduced the Navy personnel to a little more than one hundred thousand and lopped approximately $100,000,000 from the naval appropriations. Work in the construction yards has slowed down to where we are going on with about 25 per cent of the authorized building program.

There are two reasons for these happenings. One is economy and the other is faith on the part of the American Government and the people who make that Government that the Disarmament Conference will have great and far-reaching results.

We are exemplifying our faith in our actions. Japan is continuing to build on her "8-8 program." Great Britain has authorized four more great battleships. America has slackened her efforts and the sound of hammers is dying away in her shipyards.

America believes in disarmament. Americans feel that it must and will come. We called the Conference and we are showing our good faith and our deep convictions by starting to stack arms before the delegates gather.

We are not waiting for the agreement. We are beginning to disarm on the eve of the hoped-for understanding.

PROSPEROUS GERMANY LETS POLES STARVE.

Certain districts in Poland are not yet beyond the peril of starvation, and prosperous Germany, across the border, is doing nothing to aid, declared Frederick L. Thompson, a widely known paper manufacturer of Bellows Falls, Vt., who for the last several months has been inspector in charge of the American relief administration work in the vicinity of Brest-Litovsk. Mr. Thompson returned on the French liner France to pass a few weeks in this country before resuming his relief work.

He said the United States was the only nation aiding the Poles and that if relief were withdrawn now 1,200,000 children would face starvation next winter. He said Germany was basking in her old-time prosperity.

"Nowhere in Europe," said Mr. Thompson, "did I see food so plentiful as on the eating cars of trains that carried me through Germany. The factories there appear to be running full blast, and conditions there are markedly different from what I found them in other territories which is perhaps natural for a country that was not invaded by any foreign power."

The Russian Soviet Government, he said, realized the value of American money and insisted upon visitors in Russia changing it into Russia currency. One man of his acquaintance, he added, was paid 1,200,000 rubles for $800, and at his next meal was forced to pay 800 rubles for a plate of soup.

RICH ARE DRINKING TOO MUCH.

Robert Morss Lovett, in the New Republic.

There is more prohibition in the country than in the city—in Kansas than in New York. But the profitable line of division for our discussion proves to be that between the upper and the lower classes. On the whole, it is a fair generalization to say that if prohibition has cut the drinking of the poor it has amazingly increased that of the rich. Liquor has been always a prominent sign of that conspicuous waste upon which the position of the leisure class depends; but whereas formerly this prestige was a matter largely of connoisseurship and was expressed in qualitative considerations, in the present situation such fine-spun distinctions have been lost sight of and quality alone counts. Hence, whereas a single cocktail used to be an appropriate aperitif, now the hostess is blackballed who does not serve three or four. Similarly a dance could be floated on a supply of liquor which would nowadays be accounted niggardly. Whether or not the poor are drinking too little, it is certain that the rich are drinking too much.

SELLING THINGS.

Two stories of trade come at once from New Orleans. The first tells of a heartening resumption of industries and a market on the up-grade. It tells of a new twine plant to cost $6,000,000 and a $2,000,000 oil refinery. It describes the upspringing manufacture of alcohol from molasses, of wallboard from the refuse of sugar-cane, of burlap and bottle-tops and hoisting machinery and all sorts of things.

New Orleans seems to be crowded with stuff to sell. But according to the second dispatch, what that great emporium needs is a lot of live-wire hustlers to sell it—eager, pushful, punching men, awake to opportunity.

In a single issue of one New Orleans paper are five columns of want ads asking for salesmen. One man has spent $15,000 since the first of the year to obtain a salesforce, and has found but four good men. It is said that the war has taken the sap, the fiber, out of them. They got purse-proud and haughty when all they had to do was to sit back and book orders and chase customers from their doors when the crowd got too thick or they wanted to play golf. Then business came to them; now they have to go after business. They have lost the knack. They have become chair-warmers.

What are salesmen for? To sell things. Little old man alibi does business all the year round at the same old stand. It's time to do as he does and get a move on.

WILL GIVE TALK ON TIRES DURING FESTIVAL WEEK

B. C. Wheeler, chief engineer of The Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Company will be at the Xenia Rubber Store during the five days of the Festival. Mr. Wheeler will tell the car owners about the construction of Dayton tires and will explain in detail the process of manufacture.

Mr. Wheeler is closely associated with the factory officials of The Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Company, and the information he has to impart will be of real value to the motorists. J. A. Simson said Friday.

DO GUARD DUTY

Columbus, August 27.—Under command of Captain Eli Long, 35 members of Troop D, Delaware, Ohio National Guard cavalry, on horseback, will do guard duty at the state fair here next week. On Tuesday, the troop will make a cavalry charge in front of the grand stand through a smoke screen. "Billy Ireland," one of the horses used by the cavalrymen which won the Mitchell cup for consistent jumping at Camp, has been entered in the night horse show.

AGENT RESIGNS

Woodfield, August 27.—R. W. Wells has resigned as Monroe county farm agent to manage the Mooney stock farm at Captive Belmont county. He will be succeeded by W. G. Finley, of Cambridge.

THERE MUST HAVE BEEN A BIG CHANGE IN BOYS OR THE SCHOOLS OR SOMETHING IN THE LAST GENERATION

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Officials of the Fargo Mineral Springs Company, which has a plant in this city, have been spending several days here looking after the business. They expressed themselves as well pleased with the growth of the industry in Xenia, and its future outlook.

The children are beginning to look up books and slates and prepare for school which will begin a week from tomorrow.

Mr. W. C. Jeffries is engaged in building a house on West Second street, and when he went to work this morning he found that some thief had been at work and had broken open his tool chest. There is no clue to the thief.

Ralph O. Wead and Frank L. Barnett left this morning, for a visit with their college friend, Mr. Leo Macey, in the western part of the state.

A merry crowd of young folks of the city chartered the illuminated traction car last night and took a journey to Bellbrook, where a pleasant evening was spent.

GOOD TIMES FOR STOUT WOMEN.

This particular time of the year is splendid for stout women, though I doubt much whether many of them appreciate the fact. The stout woman suffers greatly during the hot weather. She perspires freely and uncomfortably, gets red in the face and develops a temperature that, doubtless, makes her feel like an oven. But if it will give her a more cheerful outlook on life, let her take consolation in the thought that the more she perspires the more weight she will lose.

Besides this, most of the foods she eats are not very fattening, unless she is unwise enough to choose a diet that is fattening and that will heat her to the temperature of a furnace. If she will eliminate all meat except chicken in the hot weather she will lose weight and she will keep cooler. Then let her eat plenty of garden vegetables, but no potatoes and no beans except the green string beans.

Celery, onions, string beans, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, spinach, squash, kale, tomatoes, are all splendid for a reduction diet, with green peas and beets, which are a little more fattening than these other vegetables, coming as a second choice. Beets that have been boiled and pickled in vinegar are better than hot boiled beets.

Cantaloupe, water melon, peaches and apples and a variety of berries are to be had in abundance and are not fattening. Grapes are slightly fattening because they contain sugar.

Buttermilk is a delicious beverage, splendid for the digestion, cooling in hot weather and not fattening. Lettuce is delicious to eat and should always be on the table during hot weather.

Flo. S.—Take a Spring tonic which will relieve that discoloration of your skin. Use lemon juice or that from cucumbers, to keep bleaching the summer.

Evelyn.—Send a stamped addressed envelope, for the eyelash tonic. Do not use cocoa butter on the lashes.

Brown Eyes.—I never heard of a liquid for reducing, unless you refer to the various mineral waters. There is no way of reducing weight hastily, unless the health is risked. The muscular system must be built up and strengthened while the process is going on of tearing down and consuming the excess fat. It is a case of building health while the body also eliminates useless avoirdupois. I take time to accomplish such a task, but to those who have perspired, their reward has been to be reborn.

Yonnes.—Witch hazel will not red-don the skin and astringent properties are about the same as that from the mixture of benzoin and the almond lotion, except for the fact that this mixture will also bleach the skin.

The blackhead powder is made by mixing together two parts of cornstarch, one part powdered borax and one part almond meal. It is used in place of soap.

Playing Different Courses

I should expect the man who hopes to improve his game to play at other clubs from time to time, but his real work must be done on his own course. I believe this sort of succession in clubs is absolutely necessary to make an expert golfer. To such circumstances I attribute whatever excellence my own game possesses.

It is not particularly desirable that the golf course used by a beginner be a championship one, for the start should be made as easy as possible. The prime requisite in the beginning is an enthusiasm for the game. I consider it an advantage to begin a golf career on an open course. After playing an open course a year or so the prospective golfer should join a club with a more difficult course, and if his game continues on an upward way his final club should have a course demanding the most modern and testing shots in the game.

I began my own golf career at a club where the course was as flat as a pancake and practically bunkers. There I went as far as the demands of the course permitted. I learned how to hit the ball with any club in bag. It is astonishing how far one can go on such a course.

As I grew older I was fortunate in being able to play on other courses for at the time my game was being formed there were many open tournaments in the district. An open tournament then meant not a professional event, but one open to all private clubs in the city.

I think I felt from the beginning of my golf career that I had set forth upon a long journey. To this day I have never had the sense of "arrival," and I think that many promising golfers have failed to reach their limit of skill because of such a feeling. The surest way to end an education is to feel you no longer need one.

After taking a survey of my whole practice of golf I believe that I owe a great deal of my game as it stands today to the finishing touches I was able to put on it at the Chicago Golf Club. At that period my game was just ready for the test of this splendid course. There I developed a game which has as its outstanding feature the shot up to the hole.

To my way of thinking, it is well to learn to hit the ball on a course that is comparatively bunkersless, since few beginning golfers can stand the discouragement of numerous bunkers. At the start almost every shot is bad and really deserving of punishment. In the other hand, one can only learn the fine shots of the game on a course that rewards good shots and punishes bad ones. Poor courses reverse this and it is not frequently reverse this, and it is not unusual to hear of a golfer beaten by a poor one on a poor course. Therefore, I think it matters not where a golfer starts so long as he ends upon a course that conforms to the present day ideas of a championship links.

In the beginning, if a golfer can only afford a public course, or a second class one, he has reason to rejoice, for his chief object is to learn to hit the ball with every club, and only the truly valiant could hope to withstand the discouragement of a first class course when hand and eye are alike untrained.

GREENE COUNTY HAS FEWER NON-LAYING HENS WORK SHOWS

Columbus, Aug. 26.—Poultry culling meetings in Greene county have unearthed a somewhat smaller proportion of non-laying hens than is represented by 25 percent, the average cull of 1640 demonstrations held in 55 counties of Ohio during a summer drive, still running, to rid the state of slacker hens.

Figures for Greene County, just compiled by poultry specialists at the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, show that 18 percent of 3489 local birds examined have been judged not laying and sentenced to death. These figures do not take into account the week just past. As the season progresses and more hens go into molt a certain sign they're through laying, the percentage of culls tends to increase.

Present records at the college credit Greene County with 45 demonstrations attended by 550 people. Poultry specialists figure a potential saving of 80 cents for each one of the 613 loafing hens sent to the block in this country.

MAPLE CORNERS REFORMED CHURCH

HAPPINESS.

In Canada my childhood years were spent, 'mid snow and mire; and though often I froze my ears, I had a bully time. The winter started in the fall and lasted through the spring, and bitter tempests used to brawl, but I would smile and sing. For I was born a happy guy, my heart was full of glee, and January or July was all the same to me. In Kansas long I made my home; 'tis there the wild winds chase; they blew the ringlets from my dome, the whiskers from my face. A cyclone hoisted me at times, and while I rode the blast I jotted down those cheer-up rhymes that made you stand aghast. On Arizona's scorching plain I dwelled a year or more, with Gila monsters in my train, and rattlesnakes before. My pelt dried up and wrinkled off beneath the burning rays, but I was still a cheerful toff, and I had happy days. If one is born the child of mirth, no ills can stop his song, not all the ordeals of the earth can wilt him very long. It is a rare and wondrous gift, the cheerful frame of mind, that sees the heavy cloud-banks drift, and knows they're silver lined. There is no envy in my heart for gifts that others own; they may be wise, they may be smart, and in their class alone; and they may scale the shining heights that I can ne'er achieve, but I am warbling days and nights, while they cave round and grieve.

COLLECT PEOPLE

As we walk further into life, the people we meet along the way mean so much more to us.

When we start out we take them for granted. But soon we begin to draw on them. We see things in them that we lack and want. And so, like the mixing of one fluid with another, we become a part of us.

What you are is what a score or a hundred thousand—or a thousand—other people have already been.

I ran into a friend of mine today who told me that he began years ago to keep a list of interesting and helpful people whom he met. And every once in a while he would send them interesting notes of some sort or other. He told me that he now had a list of more than 4,000 names, and that in this list were those who had inspired him through his business career and brought happiness to him in his personal life.

What finer business could one be in than collecting people?

Material losses, after all, are but temporary. But when we lose a friend—at the nod of one of God's Angels, or because of a misunderstanding, or for whatever reason—it does seem as though the whole world shrinks a little.

I never tire of people. Even the worst are good.

It's because we are all both good and bad—and feel the warmth of other people's urge behind every pulse-beat that is ours.

I have learned one thing about people, at least. It is this—if you have a friend, the best way to keep him is to see the good that is there and let that in this list were those who had

Read These ABC Rules About Batteries

Adjustment and oiling make your bearings last longer—proper inflation and careful driving make your tires last longer—cleaning makes your spark plugs serve longer and better. It is worth remembering that there are rules just as simple for making your battery last longer and serve more faithfully.

Here are three rules in A B C form:

- 1—Put in water regularly and keep up the charge.
- 2—Come in every two weeks for battery service.
- 3—And when your present battery wears out, buy a Willard Threaded Rubber Battery—the only battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation between the plates.

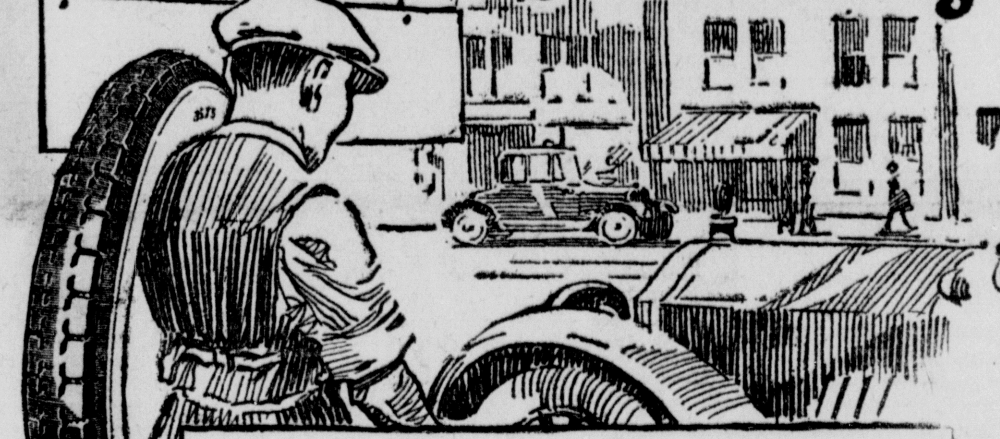

There is only one battery good enough for us to back by our unqualified recommendation—that's the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. Come in—and we'll show you some records it has made right here.

TEACHERS DEPLORE TENDENCY TOWARD INDIFFERENCE NOW

Greene County teachers in session at the institute held here this week, went on record as deploring present-day inefficiency and indifference in school matters and pledged their efforts to raise the standard of Ohio schools in a series of resolutions passed at the meeting. The resolutions follow:

1. We the teachers of Greene County and Xenia City, desire to express to the County Board of Education and to Superintendent Aultman our appreciation of this institute which was made possible through their provision. We thank the City Board of Education for the use of McKinley Building in which to hold our Institute. We appreciate greatly the high class instruction which we have been permitted to receive, and the musical entertainments which we have enjoyed from time to time. We thank all who have in any way contributed to the success of the program.

2. As we greatly deplore the present-day inefficiency and indifference in all lines of service, we feel that we as teachers are in duty bound to make every effort to discover if our schools are at fault and if so try to remedy that which is wrong. As we are sending out people who cannot read, spell or perform the simplest bit of arithmetical calculation, we should begin to seek the cause and the remedy.

3. We deplore also the indifference of the public toward our public schools, and the wide-spread ignorance of school conditions. We as a profession should do all in our power to awaken the public to a realization of the importance of our public school system, which we believe to be the greatest means of saving our country from Bolshevism and kindred evils.

4. We desire to maintain a high standard of professional spirit and to cultivate among the members of the association, a spirit of fair-dealing, democracy and broadmindedness.

5. We believe it is our duty to have the reading of the Bible and other religious exercises in our schools and to do all in our power to maintain the high ideals which have characterized the schools of our county.

6. We shall endeavor to raise the standard of Ohio schools by a more earnest effort to keep in view the six objectives, Health, Home, Vocation, Citizenship, Leisure and Character.

7. We, as teachers of Greene County and Xenia City, pledge ourselves to the highest professional attitude and to loyal co-operation with our respective superintendents H. C. Aultman and C. A. Waltz.

MEMBERS OF AUTO CLUB HEAR GOOD SPEAKERS FRIDAY

An imposing array of speaking talent entertained the one hundred members of the Greene County Automobile Club who attended the dinner and meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, Friday evening.

Harvey C. Smith, secretary of state, headed the list of after-dinner speakers introduced by John W. Prugh, of this city, head of the state department controlling building and loans who acted as toastmaster and he delivered an interesting, if brief address, on the collection and distribution of moneys paid by auto owners to the state for licenses.

Mr. Smith, who is head of the department which has control of auto registration and the dispensing of licenses, explained the different channels through which the money thus acquired was spent, giving facts and figures supporting his statements regarding the distribution of the amounts to the various ious taxing districts and the amounts spent in building and maintaining good roads for the advantage of the automobile owners themselves.

The secretary of state left before the speaking program had concluded for his home in Columbus, after delivering his own talk. He was followed on the program by the Rev. G. S. Macaulay, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, and now located in Baltimore, who greeted his friends around the banquet board, talked on the advantages of a proper community spirit, and the particular good fortune of the small city dwellers in comparison to the problems of life in the larger cities. The Rev. Macaulay was given a warm welcome by his former townspeople, M. A. Broadstone, representative of the General Assembly from this County, spoke briefly, endorsing in main, the remarks of the Secretary of State.

Frank A. De, representing the Festival Production Company, of Chillicothe, which will present the fall festival here next week, was a guest of the club at the dinner, and in his brief talk, explained the aims and purposes of next week's festival, its advantages to merchants and the public in general, and the part that is expected of automobile owners. Mr. A. De urged motorists to decorate their cars for the automobile parade, Friday, and told them that the company provided sixteen car decorations and an expert decorator, who would trim that many cars of Xenia motorists to take a non-competitive part in the parade. He pointed out the advantages of the automobile displays to car agents, and offered the Club, in return for their courtesy, the use of space in the automobile show as a headquarters for the Club.

Dr. A. C. Messenger, president of the Automobile Club urged co-operation with the festival organization from automobile owners and announced that during next week a Ford sedan will be given away by the Club, tickets to be sold during the week for ten cents apiece. The president introduced Frank Davidson, new secretary of the club, who made his initial appearance at a club gathering and who in a few remarks asked for the cooperation of Club members and referring to the fact that there are now but 243 members, expressed the hope for a membership roster of 1,000 in the next year.

The dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany.

Efficient Housekeeping

LAUNDERING YOUR SUMMER FROCKS

I have received several letters this week asking help in laundering wash dresses. I am answering these inquiries by the following article.

Organdie dresses seem to be a problem to the majority of these readers. Yet nothing is really as simple as the laundering of an organdie dress. If the organdie frock is colored and has never been washed before, let it soak in a "mordant" before washing it, to set the color. For delicate pinks, blues, and lavenders, sugar-of-lead is the proper mordant to use, simply buy five cents worth of sugar-of-lead crystals from your druggist and dissolve this in a pail of cold water; put the soiled dress in this before attempting to wash the dirt out of it, and let soak for 1-2 hour. Then let it drip dry in shade, and proceed to wash in a suds of good white soap. (Sugar-of-lead is poisonous and should not be left around where children or animals might get hold of it.)

GETS THREE FIRTS IN FOUR HEATS

Driving Amerilla McKinney, owned by Frank McCloud of Dayton, to three firsts in four heats, Joe Hagler local race horse driver won first money in the 2:14 trot at the Madison county fair races, London, Friday.

Frank Hedrick, of Springfield, driving Barung took the first heat in 2:15 1-2 and finished second in the last three heats which were won by Hagler in 2:15 1-4; 2:17 1-4 and 2:18.

Swishelm, with Pether Rabbit, was in third position all four heats.

Amerilla McKinney is the gelding being driven by Walter Taylor, of Dayton, in the mix-up during the spring race meeting here in which Taylor received a broken leg.

Hagler re-entered Al Forbes, another McCloud entry, in the 2:18 trotting stake, purse $1,000 at London, but finished outside of the money with the gelding, finishing second in the first heat, and fourth in the next two heats.

THE NEW GENERATION

HORTENSE AND JOAN MAKE UP CHAPTER 22.

When next Joan met Hortense it was with head held high, and a look of utter scorn on her young lips.

"Whatever are you looking at me like that for?" Hortense asked.

"Because you are such a silly." "I'm not a silly, and I don't want you to call me one."

"Then stop telling things that aren't true."

"I don't."

"You do!"

"What?"

"You said my Mumsie was going to get married and—"

"I never did! I just said that people said she was."

"And you said your own father said it was a good match. You can just tell him it isn't any match at all; never will be. My Mumsie wouldn't give me up for anybody on earth—or in Heaven either, so there."

The following day Hortense said to Joan:

"I told my father what you said about mother and Mr. Forrester not being any match at all, just as you told me."

"Well what did he say to that?" Joan asked with all her young impudence.

"He told mother I'd 'spilled the beans,' whatever he meant by that. We didn't have any beans for dinner, so I knew it was about what I had said."

"You are a goose. He meant you had spoiled the match by telling me I heard one of the boys say that once and asked him what he meant. But you can tell your father that you didn't spill the beans at all; that you couldn't because my Mumsie said Craig Forrester—"

Joan stopped, embarrassed. She had almost told that Mr. Forrester never had asked her mother to marry him in some way she had gathered from her mother's conversation that to have people know that would reflect upon her, as well as embarrass her terribly. So she added: "thought her charming was no reason people should gossip about her. Really nice people never talk of other people's affairs for good measure."

"I guess they do because my father and mother are really nice, and they did."

"You think they are nice, of course," patronized Joan. "That's because they belong to you."

"Let's be friends, Joan. You said you wouldn't, but if your mother isn't going to get married, you haven't got any reason to be mad with me any longer even if I did tell you what people said." Hortense seemed to think by accenting "people" it sort of let her out.

"Well—perhaps—I will. But if you ever again say that my Mumsie would even think of leaving me, or bringing anyone to live with us, I'll never speak to you again as long as I live. I mean that!"

"I won't Joan. Honest I won't. Cross my heart," Hortense replied.

That night when school was out two little girls, one with dark braids tied with bright ribbons; the other with bobbed ringlets, whose golden strands caught and held the sunshine, walked home arms about each other's waists. And when Malcolm Frost and Lonnie arperter called greetings to them Joan replied:

"Come along boys! Hannah said she was going to make cakes today."

"Gee! Joan, you're the right sort," Malcolm replied, as they crossed the road, while Lonnie said more bashfully: "I'm sure are good, Joan, to be nice after yesterday. It was mean in us to call out that 'arse just because you wouldn't talk to us."

"Oh, forget it, Lonnie! I had troubles of my own yesterday without bothering about you boys said."

"She's all to the merry, isn't she, Lonnie?" Malcolm asked in an aside.

"I'll tell the world she is!" replied Malcolm.

Margaret smiled when the four trotted into the house calling for Hannah, and cakes. What a different Joan from the day before! Either it was all sunshine with the child, or there was absolutely no silver lining to her clouds.

"You don't mind if we make fudge do you Mumsie? I know you don't, but Malcolm is so fussy. He wanted me to ask you."

"Thank you, Malcolm. No, dear, make all the fudge you like. But don't make yourself ill eating it."

Tomorrow—Margaret Makes a Trip to Boston.

WANTS REASE

Joe Szabo, arrested on a charge of manufacturing liquor at his home in Beavercreek township, and sent to the Dayton Work House by Magistrate J. E. Jones, has instituted habeas corpus proceedings in common pleas court, Dayton, to obtain his release.

Szabo was fined $500 and costs by Squire Jones and sentenced to work out the fine at the rate of 60 cents a day. When arrested two stills and a quantity of mash and liquor were taken into custody.
